As I thought, it looks like cosplay when he's wearing jinbei like this...
Ah...! want to lick the nape of his neck.

They're two normal boys living together in a local city. By the way, I had a flashback about high school when we used to wear normal uniforms, so I really admired gakuran, and that was how these boys high school period started. Not to mention that the time we spent on the riverbed was an unforgettable memory of our youth. Sou is a single child, while Arata comes from a matrilineal family, and that was the storyline me and my editor-san, who gladly joined my imagination, came up with!

Him X Him Boyfriend X Boyfriend Kei and Reo

This is a piece I drew when I was thinking of making a story about love. It's all fine, since it was able to be drawn as a comic. While I was drawing it, because Reo made a scene about wanting to wear jinbei and yukata. I drew them with yukata and jinbei on. I supposed a yukata would really suit Kei. I think that, after this, those two probably did something really ecchi. At first, I personally wanted to name this "It's nice to call you anta" and I was really insisting on it while drawing the title. I had so much fun working on this!

Post-script

Good evening and nice to meet you! This is Aomoto Sari.

This is my first comic published in drap and my second comic published in my career. (Yay!)
Me and my fellow editor-san worked really hard this year to decide which one of my works should be published as a comic.

I've drawn many manga for drap since 2011, but to be given the opportunity to present this in a complete volume makes me the happiest person on Earth.

All those magazine questionnaires and letters from readers really made my days a whole lot better. I was so happy that I even cried sometimes!

Thank you so much!!!

BEASTLY BOYFRIEND ! & !!

This is the initial title I'd worked on. I've revised it a lot compared to the original story published in the magazine, so I think this will be enjoyable even to those who've already read it when it was being serialized. Enami and Tada-kun were in my 2015 edition work. When I was working on the name for this title, it felt like I was both peeping and drawing their lovey-dovey daily lives.

! and !! was created because of the efforts of both my editors and it is a very meaningful title to me.

The continuation of this title is currently being published in drap magazine, so please spare some of your time to check that out!

Special Thanks

My editor U-no-sama.

All the drap Editorial Department staff and Y-sama.

All the personnel involved in the production of this book.

And all of you reading this book.
